I want to share with you the most-powerful, yet overlooked form of marketing that exists. What is it? Joint Ventures.

Joint Venture marketing is the secret key to uncovering the hidden asset of your ability to contact literally millions of people, rapidly, with the utmost credibility.

In fact, my associate Mike Enlow says Joint Venture endorsement marketing is the "fastest, easiest way on earth to make a fortune... if I had to choose from one single way to make money, this is it!"

And guess what folks? I fully agree with Mike. In fact, if you visit Mike's website, he has some critical information about making great wealth on the Internet and easy to understand details on how to approach and set up Joint Venture deals that he has made available to everyone. It's the JV Report. ( <http://mastersofmarketing.marketingvault.net> )

How do Joint Ventures work you may ask? Well, successful business owners maintain lists of their best customers and prospects.

They use these lists to send their newsletters to, perhaps new marketing tips and resources and even the newest products or services to help them grow their businesses. This communication also creates a special relationship with their readers.

So how can you use this: All you have to do is contact that business owner or affiliate and ask them to introduce your product or service to their audience. You then share a nice portion of every sale made from their endorsement.

You get the idea. And there's really no expense to you. It was their list and their bond with their customers that opened the opportunity for your product or service to be seen without the usual rejection you might receive by not knowing them.

Best of all, when you fully grasp the overwhelming positive impact that Joint Venture deals can create for you and your business, you will be one step ahead of most marketers.

The only question is: "Why would you limit yourself to Joint Ventures only on the Internet?" You mean I could do this offline? Absolutely. In fact, the potential for Joint Ventures in your hometown are simply staggering.

Sounds too easy. Surprisingly, Joint Ventures are often misunderstood. I think the biggest roadblock usually tends to be: How does one approach one of these super affiliates? And how should you structure such a proposal so that both sides win... and neither loses?

Of course, I always thought there had to be a better way to find Joint Venture deals. In fact, let's think outside the box and ask:
Can Joint Ventures Really Find Me?

Yes they can. Actually, there is a new source of partnering which is quite extraordinary. Not only do they provide affiliates who are willing and able to do business with you, but there is guidance on the proper ways of setting up such a powerful and profitable offer.

In fact, there's a special report available below about super affiliates who WANT to do business with you. But now that you know more about this lucrative type of marketing, whatever you do, consider Joint Venture deals.

There's really nothing I could say that would make you realize the full power of this amazing marketing technique. No matter what your idea is, Joint Ventures can make you REAL money.
