Einstein would've turned in his grave knowing I've used his name here.

I mean he's definitely not some web marketing guru, he just came up with the "Special and General Theory of Relativity" that's about all (!).

No offence, Einstein IS a genius. The article title was meant to catch your attention (which I'm sure it did) to allow me to bring YOU a word of warning today...

"Are you wasting precious time, resources AND money - marketing with TOO MUCH FOCUS on the web - huh??"

Let me put it another way...

Are you missing the "BIG PICTURE" of website marketing?

You see, sometimes we do forget to STOP to review our entire web marketing strategy, leading to disaster in our internet business!

It's nobody's fault, just a matter of over-focusing on a specific technique, leading to a neglect of other equally effective techniques.

The question is, WHY focus or put all your eggs and resources into just one or two web marketing areas, when you can SYNERGIZE with a complete web marketing strategy?

You've got to LEVERAGE and MAXIMIZE on EVERY web marketing technique out there, and more importantly,

START doing something everyday!

For instance, don't get too caught up on writing articles when you can also participate actively in your targeted forums...

...don't spent all your time clicking on startpages, ignoring the task of optimizing your website for the search engines...

...And never spend countless days drowning in information overload, while forgetting that all you really need to do is take some action now!

Well, you get my point.

It's a matter of allocating your time and resources wisely, upon which you'll be richly rewarded.

I'm challenging YOU to start looking at things differently, to start looking at the BIG PICTURE of web marketing IF you haven't already.

In this way, you can achieve much better results, starting today!
