Traffic Magic
By Richard Bolduc

This report will take you step by step through a completely FREE Automatic Traffic Generator. I have been testing it for a couple of months. The results are pretty astounding. With this system, I generate at the very least 1000 unique Pageviews per week. For many of you it will be much higher. When I explain, you'll see why.

Anyone, that can at least click a mouse, can get this little gem up and running. You can easily generate 240 unique visitors or more by tomorrow, free.

Where ever I go and whoever I talk to, the question is always, "Hey Ric, how can I generate traffic with a MacroMaker?" - Actually it is not as common a question as one might think. ;o)

Anyone can make marketing easier by incorporating Macroscripts. A MacroMaker is just program that can make a recording of your past actions. This becomes a script. You can then control these scripts by a single keystroke. They are truly helpful for multitasking.

Here is one example of how I use macrofiles to generate traffic. I am going to use the startup page traffic programs for the purpose of this lesson.

Startup page Traffic Programs

Every time you start your browser you will earn a guaranteed visitor to your website!

You are able to drive free, targeted and guaranteed visitors to any website of your choice! By setting your Start/Home page to the link they provide, every time you start your browser a different members website will be loaded. In return your website will be shown to another member.

For every new member you refer to these programs, they will give you 10%, or more, of the credits/visits they earn, 5 levels down. All this is completely free! All that is required is that you set your start/home page to the link they provide to you. These programs are truly marketing viruses that grow in direct proportion to the effort you put in.

STEP 2

Get FREE 30 demo of QuicKeys(a macromaker).

Any Macro Maker will do. I use this version because it first came out on Macintosh platform years ago, and they have there bugs out by now.

They make a Windows version, however it is my belief that the windows version will not have the full power of the Mac version.

I do know that macromakers are not uncommon. So you have 2 choices either get Quickeys for windows demo and figure it out or find a more compatible piece of MacroMaker shareware for windows.

Read more information about this type of software, and download your QuicKeys demo go through the following link.

=====

Step 3:

- a. Install your macromaker software. Restart.
- b. Log on to the web. Launch your browser.
(stand alone browsers like netscape navigator or Internet Explorer are preferred over the built in aol browser.)
- c. Set your browsers start/homepage to the unique url from one of the programs above.
- d. Use you Macromaker software to record your next actions in real time (Follow the instructions in your macromaker(QuickKeys) to record a shortcut.)
  1. Hit the enter key ONCE
  2. Use the keyboard shortcut for closing windows, TWICE (command-W for macintosh), (control-W for windows)
  3. Use the keyboard command to open a new browser window (command-N for macintosh), (control-N for windows)
- e. You can then set the shortcut up to repeat that click every minute. (That would be 60 credits an hour - 480 credits for an 8 hour day)
- f. Run for an hour and change the start/homepage to the next program.

480 credits a day for 7 days = 3360 credits per week. If you ran three shifts at 24 hours per day you would earn 10080 credits per week. Most people don't experience 3360 hits in a month. Now you can see how easy it is fix that!

I use this system for each of the programs above. I set up a separate old computers up just to run these programs for an hour at a time. I set the time to 1 minute per view, because I actually look at these other websites involved in these programs. I just don't have to be bothered closing and opening windows. I can be on the phone or getting some coffee and my slide show runs and earns me credits. Many savvy marketers are involved and occasionally I run across a new site and I'll do business with them. I have a generator running right now in my lobby for my waiting customers to view as well. They see a new website or a new concept every minute.

Please don't abuse this automatic credit generator, it is not meant to be used as a credit generator when you go out, or fall asleep. It would become detrimental to these programs if anyone cheated the system in that way. I simply use mine as a slide show of sites when I'm working.

The referral system offering credits back on five levels deep of referrals makes this an excellent choice for a nice viral marketing tactic. 5 years down the road you be getting 10,000 hits per hour and all because you took a couple of hours out to set this up today!

Please feel free to use this report to grow your referrals. This report must not be changed in any way except for your own referral URL's replacing the ones in STEP 1
