

Get Paid to Write

By Russ Moore

Get Paid to Write

Russ Moore
russ@xeebo.com

Beer Money Marketing <http://www.beermoneymarketing.com/articles/gptw.html>

"Get Paid To Write"
by Russ Moore

Did you know that you can make money from your writing in a matter of days, while writing about what you want to write about? It's true, it's easy, and you don't even need your own website to do it. Let me show you how it's done.

OK, so you've been keeping a journal for years, you write short stories, poetry, movie scripts, etc... But, it's all in your little collection of notebooks, your diary or spread throughout several Notepad files on your hard drive, for your eyes only.

First of all... learn to share. Believe in yourself, your work will have value to someone. If you feel a little uneasy about it just use a pen name.

You see, there are tons of websites and newsletters out there who need people like you... like us. They need people who can write about anything and everything imaginable. Imagine that! ;o)

You can free your creativity, write what you want to write, and end up with your work in front of thousands of hungry readers in a matter of days.

"But, how do I get paid?"

Oddly enough, that's the easy part! When you write for the web, you simply add your byline or resource box to the bottom of your work and include a link to a related product or service, an internet mall or shop, or even an MLM you've decided to join.

For an example, you can take a look at my resource box at the bottom of this article. This article is about making money with your writing. The link in the box leads to a website that teaches you how to write for traffic to your website.

Ready to dig a little deeper? Cool, let's move on.

So you've written an article, poem, short story, etc. and you've placed a link to an affiliate, or partner website in the resource box.

Now... Unleash The Power!

Here's where the high traffic (and more money) come into play. Be sure to include a line at the bottom giving permission for others to use your article.

Mine's a bit longer, but you could use one as simple as: "Feel free to use this as content if published 'as is' and includes my resource box."

If you've written a great piece... it will spread. That's the "viral" effect and as it spreads, it takes your affiliate link with it.

Now, surf with pen in hand or Notepad open.

Find websites and newsletters related to what you have written about, and take notes. It's a pretty good idea to subscribe to a couple of them so you can get an idea of what they publish before you submit something way off topic.

Submit, submit, submit!

Also, search for article databases that provide a supply of articles for ezine publishers and get your article posted in as many places as possible.

You can even post your work in some of the forums, but make sure it is acceptable there, or you will get flamed for it.

Good work! Now take a break, relax your brain and come back later to write another article.

Copyright (c) 2003 Russ Moore - All Rights Reserved
For more information on writing for the web for profit...
drop by anytime. <http://www.writefortraffic.com>

Note: You may use this article so long as it's content remain unchanged, the link remains functional and the resource box above is included in publication.

If you publish this article, please send an email to let me know. Thank You. russ@xeebo.com Article also available to read offline. Send email to: bga_gptw@ListWarrior.com and it will come to your inbox.

Get-Articles.com : 1000's of reprintable business and internet marketing-related articles.

Submit your article for reprint.