E-books are a fantastic way of generating extra income. You can write an e-book on just about anything you can think of, provided it will give your customers the information they are seeking.

Have you thought about writing your own e-book? If you have, here are a couple of ideas to write about and get you started:

*recipe's
(Do you love to cook? Then this is your opportunity to shine with your own ebook!)

*software information (Are you a computer wiz? There are many people out there that aren't. Wouldn't your knowledge help others as well?)

*travel information
(Do you love to travel? Are you familiar with the hottest locations and cheapest hotels? Let us know about it!)

*crochet information
(Do you just love to sew? Are you constantly complimented on how you do your stitching work? hmmmm)

*website information (Are you great at web design? Why not share your ideas?)

*business tips
(Are you a successful business person? What are you doing to make it happen?!)

These are just the tip of the iceberg. With so much information that is requested out there, the possibilities are endless. An extra benefit to writing e-books is "no shipping charges".

Since you'll deliver your e- books electronically, the only charge would be for the purchase of your e-book. Saving your customers on shipping charges! Now isn't that exciting?

So what are you waiting for? Good luck & be creative!
