

Get Traffic Using The Power Of Multilevel Marketing

By Terence Tan

Get Traffic Using The Power Of Multilevel Marketing

Terence Tan
terence@hugevoice.com

Learn Unusual Web Traffic Ideas <http://hugevoice.com>

Get Traffic Using The Power Of Multilevel Marketing

Ever received one of those irritating chain letter scams where they asked you to place your name at the bottom of 10 names and remove the top one? Next you are supposed to send a buck to the top name? Then you are supposed to forward the e-mail with your name at the bottom to 10 other friends who are supposed to do the same. The idea is that for a small investment of a buck, when your name rises to the top of the list, millions of people will be sending you a buck? Pretty scammy, possibly might work (never tried it myself) but probably illegal in many countries!

Anyway, if we take out the money bit, it does seem to be a possible way to get your ad out to a lot of people. If instead of ten names, we have ten ads for web sites, the potential for getting some serious web site traffic is undeniable. I'm experimenting with this technique and so far the results have been quite impressive. I've found 2 sites that pretty much automates the process for us. Check them out to see if they work for your web site and help me promote Hugevoice Bulletins at the same time. Here are the links:

<http://www.linkcounter.com/go.php?linkid=237083>
<http://www.linkcounter.com/go.php?linkid=237085>

For More Unusual Web Traffic Generation Ideas, Visit <http://www.hugevoice.com> or send blank email to:
mailto:subscribe@hugevoice.com
Terence Tan
Editor, Hugevoice.com

Please feel free to use this article in your website, ezine or e- book. I ask, though, that you reproduce it in its entirety and without alteration, including the resource information above.
© Copyright 2002 Terence Tan. All Rights Reserved.

Get-Articles.com : 1000's of reprintable business and internet marketing-related articles.

Submit your article for reprint.