Getting Started in Affiliate Programs

I got started with affiliate programs because I am really tired of working for companies to help them profit.

I didn't feel I was getting anywhere working for companies (verses working for ME). Most of us go to work day in and day out, like little robots, just to help a company grow. But a lot of times we don't have the opportunity to grow with it.

Sure, you might grow with a company and even go on to become quite an asset for the company. But that also means you probably have to work longer hours and the job gets more stressful. And those long, stressful hours are being spent away from home.

You have the commute to and from work. How many hours do we all spend in traffic every day, getting to and from work? Way too many!

When you become an affiliate with ANY company, they already have a program set up for you and all you have to do is, join. And you get to work from the comfort of your home.
